

Coalition fights Medicaid cuts; Digest

February 16, 2004 - Various organizations uniting under the banner RAMP (Restore Access to Mobility Partnership) are campaigning to rescind Medicare restrictions on power wheelchairs. The wheelchair industry and senior citizen and disability advocate organizations are fighting guidelines that assert that any patient able to walk any number of steps--without regard to function or safety--will not qualify for a power wheelchair.